

Converging Realms Conference: Call for posters

CENTRUM CYFROWE

Future Law Lab of the Jagiellonian University in Kraków
and the Centrum Cyfrowe Foundation

are proud to announce the conference:

Converging Realms: Law, Technology, and Society in the Age of Ethical and Multi-Agent AI

which will be held

26–27 September 2024 in Kraków, Poland.

‘Converging Realms: Law, Technology, and Society in the Age of Ethical and Multi-Agent AI’ is an international conference that brings together scholars, practitioners, civil society and policymakers from around Europe to explore the ethical questions, practical challenges and opportunities surrounding artificial intelligence.

The conference will be devoted to various interactions between AI and ethics, culture, justice, privacy, research and education. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

- ethical AI; principles, guidelines and legal regulations for ethical AI;
- personal data security & AI, privacy in an AI-dominated future, AI privacy protection strategies;
- AI & justice system, legal liability for/of AI, AI & social justice principles;
- AI technologies in culture and in the creative sectors;
- gen-AI in research; open-source AI research, AI vs. scholars;
- AI and critical thinking, AI in educational process, AI and disinformation.

Active participation may take the form of a poster (other forms may be discussed via email with the organizers). We welcome submissions from students, PhD students and post-docs, researchers as well as people or institutions from outside academia

Converging Realms Conference: Call for posters

There is no conference fee. Tips on traveling to and accommodation in Kraków may be found on the conference website.

Review process:

As you know, predatory conferences are a great threat to the legitimacy and integrity of academia as a whole. We want you, and the scientific community, to be confident that all content presented at this event is thoroughly vetted and reviewed. That is why we will be using a double-blind review process to evaluate all submissions.

Next steps:

- Submit your abstract through the link above.
- You will receive a confirmation email letting you know that we've received your application.
- We'll reach out on or before August 2024, to let you know if your application was successful.

Please don't hesitate to contact us if you have any questions:
